

A Commitment For Excellence

Readers are now tired of reading imaginary novels which have no basis or relation to practical life. They are not interested in reading about platonic love. They want to read a real life experience, may it be a postmans life or a postmortem workers life or carpenters life. Such biographies have slowly started coming into the market. Uday Karniks novel gives deep insight into the working of a corporate entity. Uday Karnik has written this novel very innovatively. His hero in the novel has played a crucial role. Uday gives minute details about various experiences of a person holding an important position in a company. There is one danger in writing such novels based on real life that you are not insulting anyone or defaming anyone. Hence the writer has to use pseudo names. However, such real stories, if read in an impartial manner, can give important lessons to an executive starting his career in any organisation. The proceedings of the novel are a subject of a very long real-life experience, describing different natures of different people and how they ruin an institute for the sake of satisfying their ego and fulfilling the goals set for themselves, Sometimes such a report provides a germ of an idea for other creative writers.
