

Christmas Love

Dee Wallace's father died six months before her mother made her spend Christmas Day with a man Dee hated, the bully from school and a house full of strangers. There she meets Max Portland, who somehow made everything about her first Christmas without her father better. Over the next several years, Dee and Max come together at Christmas time but the timing is never right for them to be together. How many Christmases will it take for them to grow up and fall in love?
