

Rampa: The Tigers Of Autumn

THE TIGERS OF AUTUMN by Raab Rampa Pussywillow Tiger Lily Autumn Lady I am going to relate a true story concerning Taddy, especially for those who believe that cats are thinking entities which means those people who have read my other books and believed in them. I would not wish it to be thought I was in the same state as poor Louis Wain, who became so involved with cats, being able to communicate with them, and executing detailed drawings of them, that his mind became deranged, and he ended his days in an institution. The story is true, because she told it to the Guv during the whole of her life Taddy would intimate to the Guv that she was expecting a package to be delivered to her. What is in it? I would ask, and the reply would be, Never mind what is in it. It is from Brazil. So Taddy was mixed up about her incarnations, but it was not surprising since her life there had ended prematurely. Periodically, we would be reminded, I am still waiting for it! It was not until some weeks after she had left the earth that Miss Cleo received a telepathic message, I dont think it will ever come. I guess my Mother never sent it. If you cannot accept that storywell, you can read it as a pretty fairy tale. All the same it is very real!
